We BELIEVE IN LOCAL
EAT LOCAL OHIO
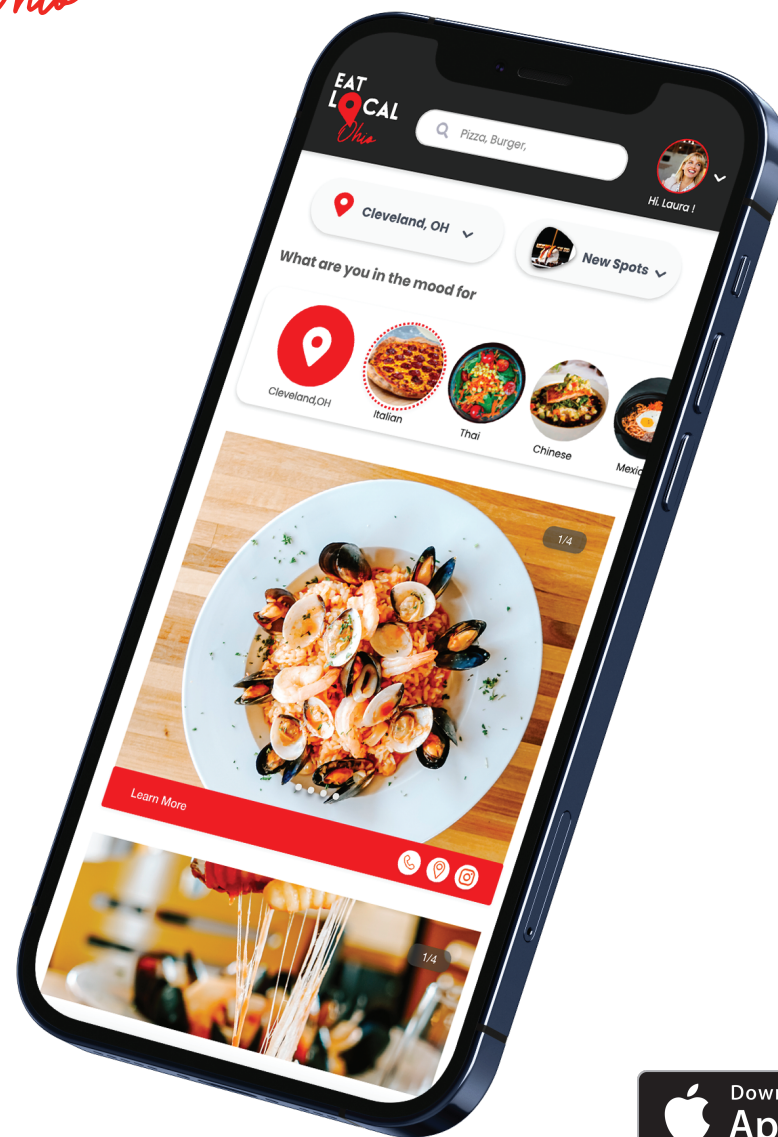

Beta Program

Beginning in July, the Android & iOS Beta Program will give our users who opt-in access to the latest version of our first Eat Local Ohio MVP mobile app before the general release. Our goal with this program is to expand our pool of testers and gain feedback across a more diverse set of devices. Just by using the app and reporting issues, Beta Testers will be able to help us improve performance on a wide variety of Android & iOS devices we may have otherwise been unable to test at scale.

This will give our Eat Local Ohio team the opportunity to eliminate our blindspots and identify a snapshot of the diversity of use cases to test our app so when we push to our whole user base, everyone has a better experience. Whether someone is using Android or iOS, more complete testing coverage gives us the opportunity to make sure more people can access a stable, high-performance Eat Local Ohio app experience.

THINGS TO KNOW

Anyone can join our Beta Program. When you join, you will get a small batch of fixes and new features every week. We ask that you use our app as you normally would, but submit a report when you encounter a bug or other issue you would like our team to improve. Because the beta build will have features that are still in progress, the app may be less stable than you're accustomed to. Feedback on stability as well as any other performance issues you experience, is crucial and deeply appreciated.
